

Wars – There are Wars and Wars, They Were Waged in Every Century!

By Matthias Chang – Future Fast-Forward

Wars, we should never be afraid of wars!

Wars are indeed the killing and destruction on a massive scale.

Wars are politics by other means.

Wars are provoked by the enemies of peace.

NEVER FORGET

War is the nature and DNA of all oppressors and of Evil

Every victorious empire and nation writes the history of wars in most favourable terms and demonises the vanquished notwithstanding the victors committed all the war crimes that the defeated nations were accused off, and in most cases, the crimes of the victors were more heinous and despicable.

Pause ..... Hear the crescendo of condemnations and hypocrisies that follow the above statements. And more condemnations will follow, that is a given!

Nothing surprising as it is to be expected.

Another pause ..... Hear the screams and cries – ‘we must have a cease-fire to stop the killings of men, women and children .... It is barbaric and inhumane’.

Nothing surprising as it is to be expected.

- 1) Was there any ceasefire to stop WWI even as millions were killed in the battlefields and millions more civilians died?
- 2) Was there any ceasefire to stop WWII even as millions were killed in the battlefields and millions more civilians died?
- 3) The said world wars were followed by more wars in Korea, Vietnam, South America, Middle East and Africa. Every war was justified in one way or another – to defeat Communism, the Jews must have a homeland, to impose Democracy, to remove dictators, to maintain hegemony etc.
- 4) No one bothered to call for a ceasefire and to account for the war crimes, the murder mayhem, the tortures, the rapes, the plunders, the destructions of the environment by chemical warfare, the mass murder by biological warfare, the assassinations by hit squads and special forces etc., when these horrors were and are committed by Western nations for imperial and colonial agendas.

- 5) None of the leaders and the minions of the so-called “Democratic” nations were arrested, charged and tried for war crimes. On the contrary, their “criminal virtues” were extolled and recorded for posterity by historians, never to be questioned and or challenged.

Wars are the ugliness, cruelty, sufferings and massacres on massive scale. We need only to refer to the recent history of wars.

- 1) The British Empire was built and sustained by wars;
- 2) The Zionist Anglo-American Empire was created by the wanton slaughter of the native Indians and expanded by relentless wars.
- 3) Wars were fought for the supremacy of ideologies, religion and race. It was even said that “it is the Whiteman’s Burden” to wage wars to civilise the natives of countries targeted for oppression and slaughter.

Nuclear bombs were unleashed to justify the destruction of Nagasaki and Hiroshima so as to end the war in the Pacific when at the material time the Japanese were already defeated and willing to surrender.

The Cold-War was declared even before WWII was ended, and the defeated Nazi and Japanese war criminals were recruited and protected by USA in the pre-emption of future wars against the then Soviet Union. Proxy wars proliferated in support of the rivalry between the US led countries and the Soviet led countries.

So, what is new about wars??? Zilch!!!

But, there are always the hypocrisies and double standards when war breaks out!

Those who have died did so in the belief that their sacrifices would ensure that the future generations may live in peace.

That said I am not willing to retreat or retract from the stance that the Zionist Talmudists in Palestine and Ukraine must be defeated in the wars that they provoked and be held accountable. That goes for all enemies of peace in all wars!

Wars are politics by other means. When all else fails, a Just War will settle the score!

Peace is not the absence of war. Peace is the consequence of war, when the enemies of peace have been defeated, and until such time when the enemies of peace, emerges again to provoke another

Prove me wrong, if you can! You cannot!

War is the nature and DNA of all oppressors and of Evil
