updates on the insane world of money and power

A World—In the Grip of Madness

Has the world ever experienced this present grip of madness? Maybe, but on a much smaller scale. Has it ever faced the level of threat its faces now? No, this is the apex.

The US mouthpiece behind Iraq WMD, totally debunked, is back, swilling lies that Russia intends to use nuclear radiation devices against Ukraine. When the war still seemed winnable to the US, where was he? Only after the rout of Ukraine and NATO do the fools come out to play. Meanwhile, Ukraine makes a drone strike against the largest EU nuclear facility. We need Tiny Tim's Xmas prayer: 'God help us, every one'.

There's a method to this madness, involving 3 premises. At the risk of ending mankind, the US will not allow Russia to win in Ukraine. And, the US will attack Taiwan, assuring China does not win the economic war. And, at the same time the US makes verbal criticisms against Israeli genocide, it will continue to supply 2 ton, dumb bombs.

For any yet maintaining there is a US plan to avoid WW3, reflect on a a US having little/no control of the situation once it goes beyond limits that the US has control over.

Recent developments show how we are fudging the line into nuclear holocaust. For perspective, we need reflect on Robert E. Lee. After the defeat at Gettysburg, when his generals wanted to participated in asymmetric warfare (guerrilla warfare made necessary by 1 side have a superior advantage over the other). Lee, in order to save the republic and to end the trade in American blood, chose the sane path—accepting defeat.

Not so today. Begin with Victoria Nuland warning Putin of asymmetric warfare surprises in store for him. Was she in the loop, or worse, a planner in the slaughter of innocent Russian youth? And, given alleged CIA involvement, had it been sanctioned at the highest level of the Biden Administration? More likely, Biden had already signed on to defeating Russia using any means necessary—negating that he be kept in the loop.

When anything goes, asymmetric warfare often descends into terrorism—finding purchase only among the insane. Does the US have a plan, or has humanity's grave already been dug—with gravediggers remaining on site to assure our proper burial?

As reality comes into focus, continuing to see Putin as the problem in Ukraine, focusing on the ruse of Taiwan as our issue with China, or remaining 'neutral' in the war in Palestine, renders one indiscernible from those lining up to take Pfizers' firth booster.

We've had ample time to see through Ukraine and Taiwan, so let's focus on Israel, which may be the most difficult of the three for most of the West to see for what it is.

Does what Israel is doing meet any standard of measured response—or is it beyond any norms? And, outside the propaganda barrage, what is the Israeli mission?

Why has Israel pulled out of Gaza? Is it because Hamas abides in deep bunkers making casualties mainly among civilians and Israelis? Or something more fundamental? The human psyche cannot abide slaughter for long, and however one analyzes it, the function of IDF in Palestine is slaughter. To fix this problem in WW2, Nazis used Zyklon B gas for 'final solution' when soldiers could no longer do 'hand's on' slaughter.

Now, the slaughter in Palestine is being conducted by an algorithm—'Lavender AI'. Ex-CIA analyst, Larry Johnson tested the 'lavender algorithm', coming to a conclusion that it is: 'garbage in—garbage out'. He used a test question as to whether or not the strategy of Israel is analogous to what was done by the Nazis in WW2. The algorithm replied that his question was too sensitive for it to reply to. This algorithm, used to slaughter children, has been programmed by those same—globalist 'agents of woke'.

'Lavender AI,' works on a rating system. Every Palestinian has been rated, 1/100 in terms of 'target desirability'. With this in place, AI determines how many civilians can be killed using 2 ton, US dumb-bombs for each suspected location. What's this program called? "Where's daddy?". They wait for the target to come home, killing the entire family, flattening a neighborhood. High risk Hamas targets allows the killing of 100 civilians.

'Lavender' makes it such that humans don't have to make the decisions. "We didn't kill these people, the algorithm did." But its targets are unlikely Hamas. Everything in Gaza is associated with its governing body Hamas—which came to power, supported by Israel. And Hamas doesn't go home at night. Its living quarters are in deep bunkers.

Why were the aid workers murdered? Israel does not want any food/medicine to reach the Arabs. When one employs an algorithm to drop 2 ton bombs on an enemy they cannot locate, what is the actual mission? Something simple—total eradication?

Think on the WEF and its support of eugenics in an underlying mission of population reduction. Once that mission is accepted, over time, what are the ethical restraints on the program? And what happens, as has happened in Israel where religious orthodoxy has taken control over secularism? In such circumstances, power shifts towards groups less inclined to consider human suffering in the pursuit of the overall mission.

The reason I'm focusing on Israel as a jump-off for nuclear holocaust is because Israel sits outside of scrutiny—in areas involving religion. And, as history tells it, religion and poetics make strange and dangerous bedfellows. Whereas one might think that wanton destruction of civilians and the US being the only vote to stop the holocaust at the UN would be enough to 'raise a din', questioning Israelis motives—maybe it is not?

In my various topics, I maintain the same degree of research, and it is my conclusion that Israel's mission in Palestine has little or nothing to do with justice. As they have since before 1948, the Jews want the Arabs to be gone—an now they see opportunity.

The US Constitution is Western hope to curtail tyranny, whether having to do with Russia, China, or Israel. In this November's election, many of us will support a greatly-flawed candidate, so as to rid us of the present monsters. But be wary—he brings neither understanding nor censure for Israel. Unfortunately, like the present bunch, he too will be joined at the hip with Israel—without any acumen to ask questions that matter.

Yet maybe, a returned Trump Administration even through ego/hubris, will find a way us out of Ukraine? And maybe avoid war with China keeping to senseless sanctioning?
