

Whisper's 24th Meditative Insights To The World

Shared by Matthias Chang

The Meditative Insight that I received this morning from Whisper, after my prayers and my perambulation, and which I am now sharing with you, will shock, hit you so hard, disorientate and you will have a humbling experience. You will find it difficult to recover your mental stability as I had following my daily meditation. I am so flawed!

It is about mirrors.

Whispers said,

“Don't ask this question unless and until you are prepared for the painful answer.”

I asked, “What is the question?”

“When you were a child, you were told and you read the fairy tale, ‘Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs’ but you paid scant attention to one critical aspect of the story. It is about the question directed to the mirror! Recall:

“... the wicked Queen looks at her reflection of herself in the mirror and asks it the question, Mirror, mirror on the wall who is the fairest of us all and she sees the reflection of Snow White... The wicked Queen was stunned and became jealous.”

“The question that the arrogant, the fool and the purveyors of lies and conceit, if they were to ask, – ‘mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the most knowledgeable of us all?’ – will have a rude awakening and not an answer they were expecting.”

“We look at the mirror every morning and other times in the day and we see our reflection and always (in silence) ensure that we look good and or beautiful. We never ever ask,

‘Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the most knowledgeable of us all?’

“I can assure you, that the answer is NOT you. Period! Like in the Grimm's fairy tale, It was Snow White, another person that was reflected, not the person (or you) asking the question.”

“It is HIM who is most knowledgeable, not YOU.” And HE is unknowable!

“So, the starting point in life is ‘I know nothing. I must search for the Truth, HIS absolute truth.’ Once we accept that we know NOTHING, we are IGNORANT and the little that we know is just a speck of sand, WE WILL BE DIRECTED ON THE PATH OF DISCOVERY...”

“Your world is bifurcated – those who know and those who don't know. And people surrender willingly to those who claim to be the ‘Know All’ – the people with fanciful titles, awards, conferred with certain stature, politicians, lawyers, scientists, physicists, accountants, economists etc. All these people who claim that they know have MISLED the people because they DO NOT KNOW! If, for any reason that you find it hard to accept this reality, ask the following questions to those who arrogate to themselves that they are very knowledgeable:

- Malaysian Lawyers – what is the Supreme Law and how many times have they read that Supreme Law?
- Malaysian Ministers / MPs – can they be charged for an offence for what they spoke in parliament (i.e. do they have immunity)?
- Economists / Accountant – why is a customer of a bank who deposits money an unsecured creditor?
- Why is a banker who extends a loan, a secured creditor (by various means) – a charge, a guarantee, an acknowledgment of a debt etc.?
- Why do scientists hypothesize and theorize and what is propounded is accepted truth and scientific, but not your contentions?
- What are mathematical models?
- What do you mean “to multiply” or as defined in dictionaries - increase or cause to increase greatly in number or quantity?  $1+1 = ( )$  is an addition, whereas  $1 \times 1 = ( )$  is a multiplication. Explain your answers.
- How do we measure time?
- Does God exist?

“I want you to meditate on the above questions and the answers that you have discovered. What makes you think that they are the rights answers?”

“Finally, if you believe in God and HE is unknowable, why do you so readily accept that theologians know more about God than you do?”

Whisper departed and left me alone thinking.

If truth be told, what drives me to search and search for answers and to be always curious, is that my starting point has always been THAT I DON'T KNOW.

Faith is not ‘blind obedience’, the ‘unquestioning surrender’ and or to ‘just follow’. I have come to the conclusion that FAITH is a GIFT, but it is given with a condition - that my FAITH must be strengthen by the humble search for HIS Truth, because FAITH is so fragile when that GIFT is neglected and unattended.

Hence, the expression – ‘I lost my faith’. And yet those who lost their faith never examined why they lost their faith. For if they sincerely had examined and analysed how they lost their faith, that Faith will be reclaimed with HIS blessings!

It is bloody hard work,
