

Whisper's 27th Meditative Insights To The World

Shared by Matthias Chang

It is better late than never. I am blessed by this morning insights from Whisper

Why?

Time: 3.05 am

Whisper let me rest my head on her Heart as she revealed the following:

“Matthias, there are two messages I going to share with you this morning. 99.9 % of people, though having the GIFT, never appreciated the wonder of this blessing. What do I mean?”

“HIS time is TIMELESSNESS. Your time is FINITE. You can never be free of time unless it is the ‘time’ to CROSS-OVER, but the GIFT of Timelessness will propel those who value Timelessness to Cross Over.”

“I will now bless you with ‘Timelessness’ – in your world of artificial time, you will not understand this GIFT but, at the MOMENT OF TIMELESSNESS, when you consciously choose timelessness as you are now experiencing, in your MEDITATIVE STATE of being, a new reality unfolds before you – you are in a state of ecstasy and you go where no one has GONE BEFORE.”

“Value this Gift and after all these years, we hope that you will appreciate this Gift. Why we hope?”

“This ‘appreciative state’ is FRAGILE and because you and your people fear the unknown, and speculate what is behind the VEIL, the precious moment of timelessness is abandoned. So, be disciplined and continue the practice.”

“I will now bring you back in your time. I will tell you some stories.”

“Look around you, especially the circle of friends and relatives and the person whom you have chosen to spend a lifetime in your finite time.”

“The woman, who says to herself - ‘I want him to be the Father of my children’ and the man who says to himself – ‘I want her to be the Mother of my children’ – both want the best of what they see in the other person, to be reflected in their children. This is the unconscious awareness of a fundamental choice and the bedrock of the love two people share.”

“Hence, the expressions ... ‘she is just like her father etc... He is just like her mother etc..... and said with such pride and joy!”

“How is it that couples never say or rarely say, ‘I want my children to be like him / her, in reference to friends / relatives that they are close with?”

“This is a mystery that is never addressed by the ‘clever people’ (such as psychiatrists, psychologists etc.) because we seldom see the best qualities and values in people other than those who we love, love so much that we are willing to make sacrifices, just to spend a lifetime with that other person that we love.”

“So, if and when we don’t see the best in any person why:

- We still mix with them;
- We vote them into political office or responsibilities;
- We stay in an organisation that is led by individuals that does not reflect the best qualities and values;
- We follow leaders in religions, ideologies etc. that do not practice what they preach; and
- We delegate to others - our children and our life - to fraudulent and dishonest people to control our life and our future?”

“Yet, we swear that we want the very best for our children and for the person whom we love dearly but, we repeatedly failed them and lack the courage of our convictions to be the best than we can be!”

There is the Perfection and the Imperfections and who chose the latter, time after time, and we complain and complain that we are not given a fair deal.

My conclusion and summing up – I will strive and strive to give my best and in all my moments of timelessness – of meditative discipline - I will remind myself never to forget what Whisper has shared with me this morning.

Better late than never!
