

neverhadaboss.com

updates on the insane world of money and power

Where Is America on the Dupe-O-Meter?

Is it just me or has stupidity shifted into overdrive? The fact is that most people I meet, if they're wrong about 1 thing (political/economic), they tend to be wrong about everything. With elite lies/propaganda, whatever flag gets run up the pole, most-all salute.

In my town, among the uninformed, a little joke makes its way around about Trump suggesting Haitians eat pets. The frolickers don't realize the joke is on them—intended to have them look away from the realities. As in: Great Replacement Job Shock: 1.3 Million Native-Born Americans Just Lost Their Jobs, Replaced By 635,000 Immigrants.

These folks are also unaware that New Hampshire parents are suing to end a mandate that LGBXYZ-inclusive storybooks be read to elementary school students, promoting gender transition, pride parades, and same-sex romance between children.

The newest iteration in the use of deception is the function of AI in the same way psychology was used against the population in the Soviet Union. AI's new role has it assessing those who spread misinformation/malinformation (though debunked as government propaganda), as being psychologically compromised—to be made right by AI.

AI will make its appearance next to everything online, labelled misinformation—with a purpose to re-educate poor misguided souls. It's an attack on free speech/open debate as when WHO denies its mission as entity in charge of global health, in favor of nation states. Quick search of WHO documents reveals a mission of complete control.

With mRNA 'vaccines', now reduced to the status of RussiaGate or Hunter's laptop, US health regulators are recommending a so-called 'vaccine' each year for children. Meanwhile, 'vaccine cards' are being rolled-out across the world, and if you think they have anything to do with health, you are being duped—this a push for total control.

If you accepted the lockdowns, you got duped. If you took the jabs, you got duped. If, as part of your employment contract you list your pronouns on your profile, you are coerced/duped. If your children are in public schools, subjected to elite misinformation and transgender transition, you are on the road to perdition. If you haven't laid out the elite mission for your kids, taught them the benefits of gold/silver, you've been duped.

And, like my neighbors, if you joke around Trump's absurdity of Haitians eating pets, —while being drawn-away from the horror that is illegals, they got you. You're duped.

The most risky dupe out there: 'vaccine cards', trans agenda, war in Ukraine, the holocaust in Palestine, the coming economic collapse, the possibility of Kamala Harris

(a weak/vain person who needs to express appearance of strength), as Commander in Chief, or the stupidity/compliance of Western minds—that's a tough call—up for grabs.

We exist in the biggest welfare state in the history of mankind—where welfare is apportioned mainly to those who don't need it. What the rest get is the propaganda: how well-off they are compared to the rest of the world. Something less true by the day.

The salient feature of the welfare state is that dilutes the mind—the fuel used to accelerate stupidity. In a welfare state there's no need to think/do for yourself—you sign-off that responsibility to someone else. All that's required from you is that you accept established narrative (no matter how absurd), as your buy-in as part of the team.

Implicit to that buy-in, to keep in good standing, able to move freely about 15 minute cities, buy groceries, take 1 flight a year to see relatives, you might be asked to turn in misinformers—some of whom, sadly, will be family members and life-long friends.

How did we get to this point—you ask? How did Americans become as children? When the authorities come after misinformers, expect to hear that 'acting like children', they get 'treated like children'. This flies the face of reality—children are not terrorists.

Americans became dependent children because elites treated them as children, robbing them first of discernment, and once accomplished, robbed them of free speech and freedoms embodied in the 1st Amendment. You can gauge just how bad it has become when Bill Gates and Co. reduces liberty to 'the notion of the 1st Amendment'.

The most contentious issue for the founders was not slavery (had they abolished slavery—no ratified Constitution). And not things embodied in the 1st Amendment—about which they were in agreement. It was voting rights. Who would get the vote?

Think about it: wherever you look in history the problem is between the everyman and the elite. Prior to the 1700's, having a say/vote was assumed to be the province of the feudal elite. In a feudal system one paid homage to the feudal lord for protection and sustenance. It was assumed the feudal lord, and maybe his knight's, got the vote.

In America, in the 1770's, there was no contention about slaves voting (they weren't even counted a whole persons). The contention wasn't over women voting—it was whether or not the everyman should have a say (a vote), or only elite—landowners?

In the end, all free American males got the vote—as equals. Why does this matter? Whether rural/urban, Americans having a say in lawmaking, with the advantage of free speech, free press, etc., set a standard for government 'of the people'—for centuries.

Now, everybody (except those deemed as felons), has a vote. But just having a vote is inconsequential to the constitutional intention—as elites attempt to negate the vote.

Dumbing-down is the meme of the day. Most of it gets taken for granted beginning with those danger signals that pop-up on incoming emails. When was it that we asked elite advise as to which communications we consider to be worthy or dangerous?

It's the same with the AI, BS. AI comes with a left bent—the more it's used the further the bend. AI is a stupid by-product of a government elite attempting to dupe us, creating a condition that is the opposite of government looking out for us. The real purpose is to dumb-down/control us such that voting functions as affirmation of feudal fealty. And, to remind us that the Constitution/Bill of Rights was just a notion some of us had.

So, here it comes. Are we ready for it? Are we prepared enough to be among survivors? Are we willing to risk to keep our liberty? Do we have our red lines in place?

I have friends oping to move to far-away places. Do they see something I don't?

Get my articles by email with a request: erik@neverhadaboss.com. And thank you.