

From Allan – Another Incredible and Impeccable source (with his permission) From USA

It has been a pleasant surprise to see so-called "Leftee" stand up comedians, like Joe Rogan and this Jimmy Dore guy, get behind President Trump and his efforts to transform America into what it once was in dismantling the "deep state" and even setting his sites on the legitimate military, not just the black ops treachery found in USAID.

Dore was joking around but in a sad and serious way, he was right, for something like this, the PTB's behind the scenes will see fit to try to kill him again.

But this is amazing that Trump was even able to bring this up. Again, he has the unique ability to Create and Control the National Narrative on any particular subject-he'll probably pull this off. Think about it. During his first term as president with the Russia, Russia, Russia, hoax, and the "deep state" controlling the narrative, had he suggested this back then, he'd have come across as "weak on defense" and would have been booted, removed from office when impeached. But now, after surviving multiple impeachments, multiple criminal and civil cases in weaponized DOJ lawfare against him and getting re-elected with a popular majority, electoral college majority, all of the "swing-states" and a majority in the house and senate, he clearly has a mandate, even by the "deep state's" definition of ...."democracy," so since he beat them on their own turf, they have for now anyways, had to hang their heads in shame while they figure out their next move against him but it won't work. He has the momentum behind him right now. He's got the narrative, and he's also got the emotional narrative to go with it, hence, he's got the people with him also, so right now, at this moment in time, he has a small window to create HUUUGE change in America--and the world actually.

If Musk can come up with $450 Billion in "waste and fraud" at the DOD, well, there is Trump's cutting the military budget in half and still not put us at any risk--not that we are actually. But optics are important and in doing this, President Trump is sending a message to Russia and China, and the whole world actually, that America is no longer going to be used by the forces of Organized Jewish Interests on the 7th Floor of the State Department for discretionary wars all over the world.

And yet the Trump haters in the JMSM, in the so-called Alt-Right media and the f***tards in truther world [Orange Man bad and is manipulated by his Jewish S-I-L and Miriam Adelson] from either side still won't give him credit for this bold move.

PS: Miriam Adelson's big thing was she did not want a Palestinian State. OK, she's going to get an American presence, province, territory--whatever--in it's place. LOL Either way, she's not getting a clean and free "Greater Israel". With a Gentile enclave right next to Israel, and if President Trump pulls all of this off, there can't be a "Greater Israel," per the Jewish god yahweh's directive, from the Nile River to the Euphrates River with "peaceful" Arab, Persian and American neighbors all around it. Checkmate.

And if my former tenant, who was a civilian DOD employee who traveled the world as a project manager in remodeling BX's was correct, we already have 3--somewhat secret-- bases in Israel so we already have the military in place to keep the peace if we had to.
