

Donald Trump: We Hear You ... We Want To Be With You! But Where The Fuck Are You Taking Us???

By Matthias Chang –Future Fast Forward

The problem with Trump and the US Gringos is that they are “American” in every which way, but have the mind of the fucked up British Empire strategist, Cecil Rhodes.

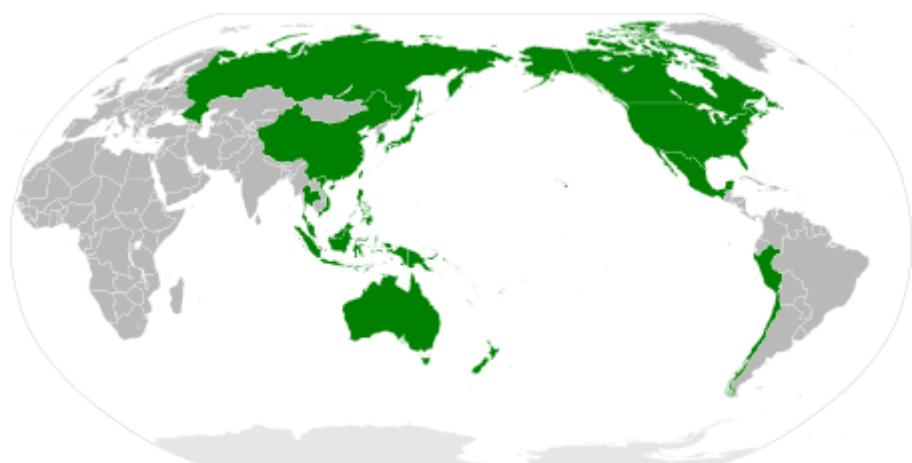

Trump studies history, but relies on the Maps, Textbooks and Propaganda of the British Empire since he was born. Sad, very sad!

We need not go further than to understand the Map of the World as Trump has been brainwashed to follow only the Map below !

The Fucked-Up Map from British Empire's Perspective
The Freaking dot of the British Isles - Centre of the World

However, Trump must look at the Map from a different perspective as shown below. The British Isles is not even relevant for the future of USA. In the words of Victoria Nuland, the European Union is irrelevant - “Fuck EU.” She is absolutely right in that sense.

Who are US closest neighbours? Not the fucking British Isles!

They are Russia, first and foremost, and secondly China in the Asia Pacific region.

The Strategic Geopolitical Map President Trump and the USA must concentrate in the next 50 years, even as the Empire declines.

When Trump changed the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of America, it may be worth his while to change the longitude of the world as well. All the geographers and scientists in the world have to adjust to the New Map as maps have evolved over the centuries. Nothing is cast in stone. The current World Map was crafted by the British Empire to reflect her centrality and control. Big deal!!! Piss off!

Please go to my website, www.futurefastforward.com and study all my articles written since January, 2025 as a starting point.

As the leader of the US Hegemon and Empire, Trump has big dreams and agendas. That is his right and view-point. I don't have to agree or disagree. That is the status quo.

I always start from that view-point in my geopolitical analysis.

Trump cannot change his political DNA even if he wants to. He cannot because his roadmap is stated in the political slogan "Make America Great Again" (MAGA). All his enemies are within the Continent of the USA – the domestic enemies as personified by the entire leadership of the Democratic Party and RINOs within the Republican Party, such as Senator Mitch McConnell.

If President Trump wants to win this war and stop his enemies from repeating their plans to liquidate him (by murder), wreck his legislative programs and destroy the Republican Party, he must do the following to seize the illusive VICTORY:

- Fuck Zelensky;
- Fuck NATO;
- Fuck EU, specifically Keir Starmer of UK and Emmanuel Macron of France;
- Stop the Obama / Biden's war in Ukraine by yesterday;
- Do not Kow-Tow to the "City of London" (they need you more than you need them) and don't be a sucker to their theatrics;
- Use the sledge hammer to compel and demand total obedience from the European barking dogs;
- Your Foreign Policy "WIN" is when UK, NATO and Europe bow to you as "the Supreme Leader" of the Western World, and do not play the second fiddle to the moribund British Empire;
- You need not "project strength," not to Putin and or Xi. A Waste of time;
- Only the weak need to put on a show to project strength. When you achieve the above, that is strength, otherwise you will be deemed a failure when you cannot discipline your second-rate "allies" - only good as barking dogs;
- Grand Summit with Russia's Putin and China's Xi by end April, 2025, to celebrate the above achievements;
- No separate meetings with Putin, followed by Xi. Time is of the essence;
- Checkmate the British Empire first before you play another game of Chess with Putin and Xi who can afford to walk away without any hesitation, as you cannot "handle" the second- rate empire aspirants; and
- You will WIN, not by threats or waging wars, but striding on the world's stage with "New Allies".

Understand the Logarithmic Decay equation and move away from the precipice.

Why stand at the precipice and expose USA to the horrendous plunge to the bottom, giving your enemies the last laugh for failing to forge a New Alignment of Global Power! Is President Donald Trump that Stupid?

No way! President Trump has more common sense than all the European political idiots put together! Period!
