

How Do We Read The Holy Scriptures Of All Faiths?

By Matthias Chang – Future Fast-Forward

I have been criticised by so many people who visited me over the past decades. My friends were aghast that I flagged the pages, marked with notations of the Holy Scriptures which I needed to read, read again for I am too stupid to comprehend the true meaning of the relevant passages on the first reading.

They would literally scream at me, “Matthias, how could you scribble on the Bible, the Quran, the Bhagavad Gita, and the Upanishads etc. They are Holy Books! You are an idiot!”

And I have been to houses of prominent persons who exhibited the scriptures they have collected, paid expensive prices (such as limited editions) and locked in special cupboards and or in pristine book shelves.

However, they never read the collected books at all. So, why buy them, if not to show off to their visitors?

The Holy Scriptures have been written for thousands of years and no one has been able to challenge the authenticity of these Holy Scriptures.

I often wonder how these global authorities and “Holy Men and Women” studied, analysed and believed the quoted passages they often cite in their speeches to paid audiences in prestigious auditoriums..

This is what I have learned over the decades.

We must INTERNALISED what we read, ponder and meditate and STRIVE to be a better person. Knowledge cannot be locked up in cupboards and or displayed in bookshelves.

The lowest common denominator of all the Holy Scriptures that I am able to discern is to have FAITH in HIM. The Holy Scriptures are teachings by “ordinary” teachers, tested over thousands of years. And yet we have people who acquire PhDs etc. in theology and accorded the status as experts. They arrogate to themselves as “experts in God”!

Some are millionaires, if not billionaires with global congregations! Wow!

To conclude, it is bloody HARDWORK and ENORMOUS STRENGTH to have FAITH when battling EVIL in all its forms and to stay true to the TEACHINGS, every day of our life. To deny this truth is BS!
